Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Russian Schoolboy These recollections of school and college were published by Aksakoff in 1856, when he was in his sixty-fifth year. He called them merely Recollections: he did not then know that he would record other and still earlier memories in the book called Years of Childhood. A Russian Schoolboy, the title chosen for this translation, is not a misnomer: when Aksakoff left Kazan in the spring of 1807, he was still a boy of fifteen, though his school had been promoted by imperial decree to the dignity of a university. As a student he wore a sword with his uniform, but little change took place in his occupations. His university studies are remarkable: he learnt no Greek, no Latin, no Mathematics, and very little Science - hardly anything but Russian and French; and even to these he seems to have given less time than to acting plays in the winter and collecting butterflies in spring and summer; fishing and shooting were reserved for the vacation. If our universities adopted such a pleasant curriculum, would they produce writers like Aksakoff? This is the third and last volume of these Memoirs, the right order being: (1) A Russian Gentleman; (2) Years of Childhood; (3) A Russian Schoolboy. But the first and third of these were published together by Aksakoff in 1856, and the second followed in 1858; he died on April 30, 1859.
